

OutstandingPoker.com re-launches with new community-oriented poker training site.

OutstandingPoker.com, an online poker training site (founded in late 2007), has re-launched its website with version 2.0. With the re-launch the website will be taking on an exciting new look, with great new functionality.

Web entrepreneurs Errol Potok and Tim Mc Killican are co-founders of Outstanding Poker. After several years of providing low stakes online poker training to poker players with a variety of skill levels, they decided that there was a market opportunity for a poker community and training site taking advantage of the latest social media technologies.

Outstanding Poker members will now have the ability to connect with each other as a member of our community. The new social component of Outstanding Poker will give members the opportunity to discuss hands and strategize with other members about all aspects of the game.

Errol says: “This re-launch is exciting for Outstanding Poker, as we now have an outlet for people to communicate online with other poker enthusiasts. Members now have the ability to post in our forum, create their own poker blogs, post and share hands via our poker hand history replayer and more.

“We have taken things to a whole new level by combining a new community oriented site with our poker training school. We aim to stay affordable and true to our educational roots.”

Tim, known as atta22 online and the site’s lead poker instructor, comments on the re-launch: “In creating this new online platform we have aimed to better the online poker training experience. Poker has been very good to me and by providing a social platform for poker training I hope to give something back to the poker community.”

With the release of Outstanding Poker v2.0 you will now be able to get affordable premium memberships plus various rakeback options at a many of the top online poker rooms. Premium membership options include a $14.95 monthly rate and a $140.00 annual rate with no initial signup fees involved. Basic membership is free and it allows members to stay active in the online community through personal blogs, forum postings and member profiles.

The site (www.outstandingpoker.com) has a library of over 100 poker training videos, which includes: no-limit holdem cash games, multi table tournaments, and sit and go poker tournaments. Outstanding Poker coaches include: Tim (known as atta22 online) – medium to high stakes cash game specialist, Rob Green (hockeyguy) – micro stakes cash game specialist, Wayne Lo (elwayneo) – sit-n-go tournament specialist, Matt Taylor (mattutaylor) – multi table tournament specialist. The site also has a variety of guest pros that produce videos and training content.
